NEW RELEASES

C'EST LA SAISON - RUM

IMPERIAL FRENCH SAISON

Poured from a stubby 22ounce brown bottle into a Belgian-style chalice, the beer appears a rich, semihazed, deep brown with ruddy hues; a creamy beige head dresses the top, with a wispy center and ringed lace.

$24.99

ADD TO CART

2014 LA FOLIE

SOUR BROWN ALE

The 22-ounce brown bomber pours with a thickness and leaves three fingers of stodgy head. A head that does not want to move. Slightly hazy reddish-amber color. Spicy herbal hops with suggestions of wintergreen, pine sap and grapefruit rind.

ADD TO CART

GREEN COYOTE

TOMATILLO SOUR

Sharpish citric snap up front, with notes of grapefruit, lime and lemon; deep floral notes as well. A tad resinous, a little piney, especially in the hop finish, which is puckering and drying. Sweet, bready malts with some fruitiness.

$15.99

Best Beer Ever!

January 21, 2018

Pours a slightly hazed, rich, dark amber beer with orange hues. Massive head on this one, three fingers thick, a white froth with amazing retention; it really sticks to the glass. (Thanks, hop proteins!) The aromatics are unreal, with an aggressive hop scent full of pine, dank resins, spice, grapefruit, rind, pith and a mixed bag of herbal goodies. Beneath it all are sweet, syrupy notes of rich tropical fruit like pineapple, ripe honeydew and mango.

SUCCESS!

Congratulations, your order was placed successfully! A receipt was sent to edwardf@gmail.com.

While you wait for your beer to arrive, here are a few tips to help you get the most out of your experience:

Sediment settles at the bottom of the bottle. As you pour, swirl the last bit to stir sediment and release the most flavor.

Saisons are ideally enjoyed in a snifter or tulip glass. They help capture the aromas and allow you to swirl the beer to release additional aromas.

The best temperature to drink your beer is whatever tastes the best to you. If you ask the experts, a saison is best served at 46-54° F.
